

poems / Deeper Questions

Sitting at the Aussie pub with you,
Sipping drinks as the sun sets over Sydney city,
The orange glow blankets us in warmth,
And Tom Misch plays softly in the background.

In this moment I feel open,
My heart ready to share and explore,
To ask and answer deeper questions,
That help us know each other more.

What are your biggest dreams?
Your deepest fears?
What memories shaped you?
What paths led you here?

As Esther Perel says,
Intimacy thrives on the unknown,
On revealing vulnerabilities,
Letting inner worlds be shown.

So let's speak of meaningful things,
Share pieces of our inner being,
And through this journey together,
Keep learning and growing.
