

poems / Solitude

I sit alone in Sydney by the park,
The sun is setting, and the sky is ablaze.
I watch the dogs run around,
And think about my love who's far away.
I'm happy here, in my own company,
I'm learning who I am, and what I believe.
I'm surrounded by people, but I'm not lonely,
I'm connected to the world, and all its beauty.
I'm curious about the world around me,
I want to travel and see new places.
I want to meet new people and make new friends,
I want to experience all that life has to offer.
I'm part of a community here in Sydney,
I feel connected to the people around me.
We share a common love of this city,
And we're all here to make the most of it.
I'm happy in my solitude,
I'm learning and growing,
I'm connected to the world,
And I'm part of a community.
